THE L.E.A.D. PROGRAM

2018

2019

OBJECTIVES

The JHMA L.E.A.D. (Learn, Experience, and Develop) program aims to provide both Human Resource and Management students with hands-on experience in their field of choice.

- ✓ To advocate the value attached to using HR frameworks within a firm to maximize productivity and organizational success.
- ✓ To provide organizations with a pool of young, dynamic, passionate and top-performing candidates.

MISSION

To provide Management and Human Resource Management undergraduate students with opportunities to learn and gain perspective, ultimately preparing them for their professional post-graduate careers.

VALUES

Communication and Interpersonal Relationships

- ✓ By working in teams and alongside professional companies, students learn the importance of communicating in a timely, professional, and appropriate manner.

Initiative and Leadership

- ✓ Understanding the importance of resourcefulness and continuous improvement.

Personal and Professional Development

- ✓ Encouraging both personal and professional growth of students through their exposure in both formal and informal settings.

Creating Opportunities

- ✓ Being a part of L.E.A.D. will allow students to stand out from the crowd of over 900 HR and Management students.

Collaboration and Communication

- ✓ Teaching students the value of collaboration and communication through teamwork.

WHY SHOULD YOU PARTICIPATE?

- ✓ Recieve HR solutions and fundamental HR frameworks for free or at a small fee.
- ✓ Obtain fresh perspectives on your current organizational issues.
- ✓ Receive assistance from committed students on upcoming projects.
